There is a change in the prairie chicken shooting regulations this year. While the time is limited to ten days, shooting of these birds is confined to the foothills area, i.e. from Macleod west in this corner of Alberta. The line, west of which shooting is permitted, extends from the international border south and two miles west of Cardston direct north to Edmonton.

BLAIRMORE WINS CRAHAN CUP

Battling against Coleman on neutral grounds at Fernie on Sunday afternoon last, Blairmore undisputedly made claim to the district trophy, known as the Crahan Cup, awarded some years ago by Mr. Thomas Crahan, then proprietor of the Miceli hotel, for competition between district teams. In recent games, the B.C. teams were eliminated. This coveted trophy was brought back to Blairmore by the local boys on Sunday afternoon, and is since on display in the clubrooms of the B.E.S.L. This is about the second time this coveted trophy has reached Blairmore. It last found a resting place here in 1912.

FORMER COLEMAN TAILOR DIES AT CRESTON

William Donaldson, well known around these parts, as well as in the Kootenays, passed away at Creston a couple of weeks ago, following an operation for appendicitis, which was followed by pneumonia. He was forty-seven years of age and a native of Scotland.

He came to Canada in 1911, locating at Saskatoon, where he was married in 1918 to Miss Annie Beaton. Later they moved to Coleman, where they resided for some years, and where Mr. Donaldson successfully prosecuted his tailoring trade. When Kimberley started to boom about ten years ago, the Donaldsons moved to that town, and about three years ago again moved to Creston, where he carried on a cleaning and pressing business.

A very cordial gathering of members and friends of the Rebekah and I.O.O.F. lodges of Pincher Creek gathered in their lodge room on the evening of September 24th to express regrets and sense of loss at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clements. The members of the Rebekah and the I.O.O.F. were present. Mr. Clements was presented with a past grand's jewel, while Mrs. Clements was recipient of a beautiful Rebekah pin.

R. B. R. B. IS WELCOMED

CONSERVATIVES PRE-PARE CAMPAIGN

On Wednesday morning September 18th, at the C.P.R. depot at Calgary, I was an eye witness of a most astonishing home coming of a politician. True, he was the Prime Minister of Canada, but this does not fully explain the exceptional and the wonderful personal affection that was extended by the citizens to the Right Hon. R. B. Bennett. I observed, wondered and was puzzled and sought information from old and young. The answers I received can be summed up "Well he is to us 'R.B.', of Calgary, a man who has never let us down." Unless all one's past experiences are valueless the citizens of Calgary have determined to fulfil their part by ensuring that "their R. B." is returned as the member for West Calgary. But this is not enough. There is a clarion call of the most tremendous importance upon all Conservatives, the moderate and fair-minded people of Calgary in particular, and of the Western Provinces generally. It is to make certain not only that Dr. Stanley and Mr. Andy Davidson are returned as Mr. Bennett's colleagues, but that there is full support accorded to the support of the Conservative candidates throughout the west. In all probability upon the Western Provinces will rest the responsibility whether or not the Bennett Government will form the largest party in the next House of Commons.

Remember; the Bennett Government has given the West a square deal. Remember; no Government since Confederation has had greater or more serious problems to deal with. Remember; the beneficent measure the Government have placed upon the statute books during the past five years in the interests of all sections of the country.

Above and beyond even all this. Remember that three years ago Lord Halisham (now Lord Chancellor of England) speaking in Calgary said that R. B. Bennett had saved the British Empire. Ponder just for a few seconds to realize what this means at the present moment to all peace loving peoples of the world.

GIRL GUIDES' OFFICIALS VISIT PASS GROUPS

Mrs. E. C. Pardee, provincial commissioner, Edmonton, and Miss Kathleen McMahon, Dominion field secretary, Toronto, arrived last night and will conduct a series of meetings and rallies in Blairmore and Coleman in their official capacities in connection with the Girl Guides' movement.

Inspection of Rangers, Guides and Brownies of the "Crown" Nest Pass division will be held in Blairmore at 6 p.m. tonight (Thursday), and a grand rally will be held in the Columbia hall, Blairmore, at 7 p.m.

Training instruction will be given by Miss McMahon in the Blairmore Anglican hall on Friday at 3 p.m., 4.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m., and in the Coleman parish hall on Saturday at 3 p.m. and 8.30 p.m. The meetings at 3 p.m. will be specially interesting to parents.

During their stay in the Pass, Mrs. Pardee and Miss McMahon will be guests of Mrs. R. P. Borden and Mrs. W. Hall, at Coleman.

FREE BOOKLET DESCRIBES QUAKER WAY OF BAKING

Literally thousands of Western Canadian women have discovered a new, easier, better way of baking. It is the Quaker Method of Easy Bread Baking, a method described in a free booklet published by The Quaker Oats Company, of Saskatoon, makers of Quaker Flour, one of the best all-purpose flours on the market.

Baking with the Quaker Easy Method makes kneading unnecessary, you do not have to let the dough stand overnight—it takes the labor out of baking bread and rolls. To procure your copy of the booklet simply write to The Quaker Oats Company at Saskatoon, and they will be glad to send it to you free of charge.

Quaker Flour is not only perfect for making light, delicious bread and rolls, but it is also ideal for cakes and pastries of all kinds.

The Quaker Method of Easy Baking has been tried and proven in thousands of homes—where every day is saving women countless hours of work and time and making baking a pleasure. The combination is one that will prove surprisingly easy to use and wonderfully satisfactory in results.

The Order of Oddfellows paid out no less than $4,351,382.26 in relief throughout the world in 1934 to a membership of 1,623,840.

England To Receive Relic

Armada Jewel Has Been Given To Art Collection Fund

The Armada jewel, one of the most beautiful relics of Queen Elizabeth's time is to return to Britain. It was bought at a saleroom in London for 2,700 guineas, and it was announced that it had been given by Lord Wakefield to the National Art Collection Fund. The jewel formed part of the Pierpont Morgan collection of miniatures. It will go to the Victoria and Albert Museum, Kensington, London.

To Shorten Ocean Trip

Irish Free State Plans Ship-to-Shore

London will be brought within three days of New York when civil aviation plans which are being devised by the government of the Irish Free State come into operation—possibly next year.

The scheme aims at a service of high-speed aircraft of the Douglas type, to intercept the big Atlantic liners of the west coast of Ireland and to speed the passengers to London, with the saving of a full day of travel time.

With ships of the type of the Queen Mary and Normandie the Anglo-Irish air ferry will make London and New York a matter of a mere weekend trip.

From Galway on the west coast of Ireland to Southampton the liner is at present a full day's journey, with an additional two hours to London. The new air link would bring Galway within three hours of London.

It is proposed to use amphibian machines.

From Dublin the idea is to form a new air link not only with London but also with Paris, Brussels, and Berlin.

Ships Attract People

Many Feel Personal Loss When Vessel Makes Last Trip

It is odd how inanimate things sometimes attract people. It is almost to have character and personality. A case in point is the famous liner, Marietta. "The Old Lady of the Sea," as the vessel was called, has an interesting record and those engaged in shipping felt a peculiar attraction to her. When she last sailed from New York on her farewell voyage, the dean of the New York pilots gave up a holiday in order to escort her out of the harbor. Just 28 years ago the same pilot guided the vessel into the New York Harbor on her maiden trip, and when she steamed down the Narrows of the Hudson on her last trip, he could tears from his eyes—A good ship, does things like that to men.—Boston Post.

Jack Bates, Edmonton, was named as district lieutenant-governor; Walter Cawsey, Saskatoon, as secretary; Herman St. John, Calgary, as treasurer, and Jack Colburn, Edmonton, as assistant-at-arms.

Delegates were present at the convention from Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Calgary. Intimation was received that Vancouver would join the federation.

Hunting King's Fortune

Group Of English Chemists Searching For Gold And Jewels

Search for a legendary fortune of gold and jewels believed to be hidden in a secret passage beneath the ruins of Beeston Castle, Cheshire, England, is being carried on by a group of young Northumbrian chemists and engineers. King Edward II is said to have hidden part of his private fortune and jewels in the 366-foot well of the castle before a voyage to Ireland. Some historians say, however, that a great deal of it was seized and used to put Henry IV on the throne.

HARVESTING IN SASKATCHEWAN AT 20 BELOW!

It is about the middle of December one of the most unique scenes in the Northern Hemisphere should develop on the North American Continent will be in full swing. No! Not wheat—but Miners! The scythes will be Little Manitou, Lake. Waterford, Saskatchewan. The harvesters will be the employees of the Department of Natural Resources of Saskatchewan. The wheat will be salt which forms in Little Manitou Lake each year at "freeze-up." It is one of the essential conditions that a harvester must contend with a period of ten days. When the Prairie winter comes in real earnest, and the temperature should drop to 20 below zero, the Department warmly attired, and wearing waist-high rubber boots, gather up these crystals with specially constructed scythes with blades of iron. The Government warehouse at Waterford, where they are later distributed. The medicinal qualities of this saline lake, which remains dry for many years, are becoming more and more widely recognized, and as a consequence these harvesting operations are assuming ever-increasing proportions, and the Lake is proving to be one of the Province's most important natural resources.

Munitions Control

United States To Supervise War Implementation

The U.S. national munitions control board was set out to formulate rules for the United States government's first attempt to supervise the war implement industry.

At the call of Secretary of State Hull, the board's statutory members—the secretaries of the treasury, war, navy and commerce—will organize to:

1. Register before Nov. 30 all manufacturers and exporters of arms, munitions and implements of war in the country, with their firm name, place of business, and products.

2. Require licenses before any future consignment of munitions can be shipped to foreign nations in peace time.

3. Define what products should be placed in the category of "arms, munitions, and implements of war."

4. Make available to President Roosevelt all arms data which may be of use to him in proclaiming an embargo on munitions shipments in the event of hostilities between any nation.

Comes From Many Sources

Canada Supplies Only Part Of Binder Twine Used

The binder twine being used to harvest Canada's grain crop comes from a number of sources. Canadian made twine supplies a large part of the domestic demand and considerable quantities made in the Dominion are exported to other countries, but binder twine from several other countries has come to share the Canadian market. Importations are from Great Britain, Ireland, Holland and recently from Belgium and Germany.

England's Wheat Acreage

A considerable increase in wheat acreage has resulted from the Wheat Act in England and Wales, from 1,288,000 acres in 1932 to 1,660,000 in 1933 and 1,771,000 in the present year. Meanwhile the oat crop has been reduced by 205,000 acres.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 26:1-7.

Explanations And Comments

Companions Speaking English, Jeremiah 1:8-10. In the thirteenth year of Josiah's reign (about 626 B.C.), Jeremiah, the son of a priest, was sent by the prophet to the people of Judah to speak to them concerning their sins and to call them to a return to God. It is natural to understand that he had long meditated upon his country's sins and had felt impelled to denounce them, but he was more anxious to understand the task. The inward struggle which took place in him sensitive and shrinking heart when something different from what he had known and believed came into his mind, was the secret of his success. He was certain that the people to whom he spoke were the people of God, the people he loved, the people he had known all his life. He was not a child in years but he lacked experience, he feared he had not the ability to speak, he distrusted himself. In the judgment today, he had an inferiority complex. "Say, I am a child" was the answer to his troubled thoughts that came to him: "I am a child, I shall send thee, thou shalt go, and do all that I command thee thou shalt speak." Be not afraid because of them; for I am with thee to deliver them."

"Lord Jehovah! behold I know not how to speak; for I am a child." He was not a child in years but he lacked experience, he feared he had not the ability to speak, he distrusted himself. SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-deb, a giddy, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-of-age party. Suddenly in the dark, the cold, the blizzard, her indulgent father loses all he had, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. Nancy, however, is a girl who is saved from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the girl a home on what seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge.

Nancy sets out one afternoon to climb to the top of a hill so as to obtain a view of the surrounding landscape and misses the path Aurora Tubbs had told her to follow. A truck comes along and picks up Nancy and the two Adams, and she asks him which way to go. They ascend the hill, look around, and then go on to Columbine's.

Adam tells Nancy that his brother Luke has broken his leg, and that Jack Nelson has been hired to help repair it. Luke's leg gets better, while Jack awakes. Nancy finds that she is lonesome, and having no books to read, the idea of starting a public library at Pine Ridge seems a good one, and Nancy starts home, but her parents to send all the books they could spare and all they could induce others to let them have.

Nancy meets Matthew Adam, a Christmas shopping in a neighboring town. On their return to Pine Ridge, Nancy is amazed to see the Columbine residence all lit up, and asks Nancy if she is all right. He says: "Let's go in and see." Then Nancy finds that the new home had been planned for her in Boston.

Nancy's parents and friends gave the financial support to her request for books, and she is soon admitted in due course. Father Adam painted a sign for the library, and the Adam boys worked on the shelves for the books and decorated them to make the room look presentable.

Jack Nelson, Matthew Adam, and Nancy go to the prairie home of Matthew's and for a ride, and after Nancy and Jack leave the home, they are caught in a blizzard.

Now Go On With The Story

Where that empty milk can came from they never knew; but for a while it created not only diversion, but a feeble warmth that was dearly welcome. With the aid of a pocket knife Jack ripped the leather covering from the milk can and used it as stuffing for a fire. School books came next, but not until darkness was descending and all hope of seeing the missing driver was given up.

"I'd go for help," Jack told his sister grimly, "but even if the road weren't drifted, I'd never make it with night coming on. We've been here about four hours, haven't we? It seems a lifetime already, and these youngsters have been here a good while longer. If things aren't better in the morning, I'll have to go, Nancy. Have you noticed?" (he lowered his voice), "those twins are getting drowsy, both of 'em; and so's Paul Evans. I can't tell whether they're just sleepy, or—Look here, sis! It's up to us to keep them moving!"

Darkness came fast; but slowly, terribly slowly, it seemed to Nancy, hour after hopeless hour dragged on. Wild wind still raged about them, and at the back of the bus a snowdrift had collected, sitting in through the broken window and making them cramped and uncomfortable. Though an effort was made to keep the fire burning, a sudden, especially fierce gust had blown it out; and

and it looks as if I'd have to take that coat. No, I won't need the socks" (as the little boy stooped bravely to remove them). "Tom Osgood, you keep the kiddies moving. I'm counting on you older ones to help."

"Look here," spoke up the boy suddenly, "you find me, fer Jack, and follow it if you can. Dad told me once that if ever I got caught out in a blizzard, to find a fence and just hang onto it. And if you run into a mail box you'll know a gate is somewhere near. Gosh! Jack, I—I sorta wish you wouldn't go."

Jack forced a smile.

"Now don't you worry, kid. I'll get there sure, so long as the wind stays quiet. You just help Nancy every way you can; and whatever happens, don't go to sleep. Keep thinking that by night we'll be safe home. Good—good-bye—every one."

He did not look at Nancy as he strode away. The girl knew that he did not dare to; and in another moment his tall form was blotted out. What fate would meet him, alone in those terrifying plains, she wondered, tears stinging her eyelids. And tears (with a clutch of fear), was the wind rising?

Time passed, interminable hours that seemed unending. The dreaded wind died down, returned, and died again, but to Nancy, it only seemed to grow louder. Nancy, exhausted, sat for a time, holding within her coat a boy of seven who whimpered with the cold. Late in the evening a semblance of sleep returned to her, and when she awoke, she too arose to move about the crowded quarters, and like her brother, chafed numb hands and feet.

Dawn came at last, and the storm had not abated.

"But we're alive," said Nancy, teeth chattering as she tried to speak: "We're all alive."

Jack faced her suddenly. Almost it seemed that he was angry.

"And how long will we last?" How long, I ask you?" He raised a foot and she saw a bare leg above the shoe. "I put my socks on Joey Miller three hours ago when you were nodding. That boy's all in, Nancy; and some of these little girls won't live the day through unless help reaches us. If we had food it might put new life into them; but every lunch pail's empty and—"

He stopped suddenly, a moan passing through his teeth, and lifting a child, worked at her stiff legs in desperation. It was Nancy, the twin who wore her sweater; and suddenly the girl was pulling off her woolen stockings while Jack protested: "You keep those on, sis! Say, are you going crazy? Do you want to freeze to death? You're in this thin silk undies now. I know it. I saw you sneak out of that knitted thing a while ago. Damn you, Nancy! Given you keep those stockings on!"

Nancy said nothing. Jack was, she understood, half crazed with anxiety for all those helpless children and herself as well. Slipping bare feet into her shoes again, she knelt to pull her warm hose over the icy legs of the smaller sister; while one of the two girls watched in silence, strung out of her coat and buttoned it about her little sister.

Nancy threw her a smile, a drawn, sad smile that Cousin Columbine wouldn't have recognized.

"Come help me, Evelyn," she said gently. "We must wake some of the little ones and keep them moving." One after another they got them to their feet, those weary youngsters. Some, unable to understand, protested, weeping. Others did their brave best to help. It was nearly noon when, as the wind subsided, Jack said the words that struck terror to his sister's heart.

"I'm going now, Nancy." His voice trembled a little. "As I see it, there's no other way. Keep up your courage; and for God's sake, Nancy, keep fighting. Unless the wind starts up again I'll reach that ranch in a few hours."

"And—if you—don't...?" Her eyes met, and Nancy knew her brother meant, how slim a chance he had. Her lips trembled; but she made a gesture toward the children.

"I know—but I can't let them die, Nancy, while there's a chance to save them. Bill" (turning to the boy who wore his jacket), "I'm going for help."

AIR CELL battery lives on air for 1000 hours..

Here is the "A" battery which has revolutionized the radio industry. It is making the battery set as efficient and as simple to operate as an electric receiver.

Eveready Air Cell needs no recharging. It breathes oxygen—it literally "lives on air" for 1000 playing hours.

With the Air Cell there is no gradual slackening of power which so often spoils radio reception. It maintains itself at full strength to the end.

Don't envy your city friends who have electrically operated radio sets. Now you can have the same clear reception with no trouble or bother. That is, if you buy a new Air Cell Radio.

These new sets, now made by all Canadian radio manufacturers, use the Eveready Air Cell "A" battery which does away with storage batteries and needs no recharging. The amazingly long life of the Air Cell—with no upkeep costs—gives you true economy.

Eveready Layerbrite "B" Battery is the ideal companion.

Interference Not Allowed

Radio Howlers Will Not Be Tolerated

In France

France is conducting a vigorous campaign against radio "howlers", people who interfere with their neighbors' radio reception. In one month the French Ministry of Posts and Telegraphs has caught and punished 13,465 howlers. It is an offense in France to hinder radio reception, and the purchase of what is called "anti-parasite" apparatus is obligatory in cases where refrigerators, elevators, and similar equipment cause inconvenience.

Teacher: "Who was Homer?"
Student: "I am not sure, but I think he was the fellow who wrote the 'Oedipus' and the 'Iliad'."

Will Not Face Storm

France With Carrier Pigeons

Carrier pigeons won't carry on in a storm thus shattering another cherished illusion of devotion to duty. An experiment was carried out by French military experts and pigeon fanciers in the Basses-Landes radio station where atmospheric conditions were produced. This was done by generating powerful "charge" Hertzian waves of 200 amperes. At the same time several hundred military pigeons were released from their coops. Sensing an electrical storm a few minutes, then flew right back to their coops. They refused to budge until the "storm" was over.

Teacher: "Who was Homer?"
Student: "I am not sure, but I think he was the fellow who wrote the 'Oedipus' and the 'Iliad'."

If we listen to our self-love we shall estimate our lot less by what it is than by what it is not, shall dwell on its hindrances and be blind to its possibilities, and comparing it only with imaginery lives shall indulge in flattering dreams of what we would do if we had the power, give if we had wealth, and be if we had no temptations. If we yield ourselves unto God and sincerely accept our lot as assigned by Him, we shall count up its contents and disregard its omissions, and be it as feeble as a cripple's or as narrow as a child's, we shall find in its resources of good surpassing our greatest aims, and sacred claims that will keep awake our highest will.

MARKING THE

FEDERAL BALLOT

The method used by some of the many who spoiled their provincial ballots on August 22, should not be adhered to on the federal ballot, October 14, when the use of a cross (X) is the correct procedure.

Placing an X beside the name of the candidate of one's choice is a simple procedure—in fact the simplest form of marking a ballot; yet, with confusion in the minds of some, since using the preferential and transferable systems as were applied in the provincial election, there will likely be thousands of spoiled ballots when the federal count is made.

In the 1930 federal contest, there were 24,119 spoiled ballots, and in spite of all the publicity which will be given from now on, it is almost a safe bet that the number will not be much less during the 1935 contest. It should be kept in mind by those who realize, while in the polling booth, that they have ruined their ballot by having erroneously placed their mark, or having placed a wrong mark, application for a new ballot paper should be made immediately to the returning officer for a new one.

Remember to mark X on your federal ballot.

BOUQUET FOR ABERHART

James Smale, Alberta's one man Civil Service Commission, came under the Aberhart firing axe this week. The New Review hastens to send a bouquet in the direction of the Hon. Wm. Aberhart instead of the customary brickbat.

A clean-up in the Civil Service Commission has been long overdue. In future let government appointments be based on ability to serve the Province instead of favoritism and the necessity to offer favors to men in high position.

If the Hon. Wm. Aberhart shows sound judgment in weeding out the drones, the parasites and others who have been idling and enjoying perquisites on the public purse, he will have accomplished a genuine service to the people—Drumheller New Review.

Extensive repairs have recently been made to the Gap ranger station, including a concrete foundation. Lumber for the wood work was brought all the way from Calgary. It could just as well have been purchased in Three Rivers, Quebec, or Campbellton, New Brunswick, as far as benefit to this district is concerned.

A mountain climbing party at Frank almost had a fatal termination on Sunday. There were five in the group, Keith Whimster, P. D. McTavish, G. Harrower, D. L. Stauffer and V.C. Grant. All but the latter had climbed Crows' Nest mountain a few weeks earlier, and were bent on climbing the face of it. Whimster and McTavish had reached a point half way up. Whimster had a rope tied about his waist, while McTavish kept the other end in his hand. McTavish lost his footing, slipped and fell over the face of the cliff. In an instant he was dangling at the end of the rope. He hung on for what seemed an age, but was only a few minutes, and finally Whimster succeeded in pulling him up. The fact of Whimster having a firm position on the rock above was all that saved both from a fall of 150 feet or more onto a mass of rocks, where both no doubt would have been killed—Cranbrook Herald, Sept. 17, 1935.

The Conservative candidate for
Macleod Constituency

Mr. J. W. Matthewson, of High River, Conservative candidate for Macleod Federal constituency in the coming election, has had twenty-five years of public service in Western Canada. Born in Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, in 1882, he is the son of the late Captain James Matthewson of Edinburgh, and the late Jessie Whyte Matthewson, of Perth, Scotland. He was educated at Christ Church School and Skerry's College, England.

Twenty-five years ago, Mr. Matthewson migrated to Canada, selecting Strasbourg, Saskatchewan as a promising location for a mercantile business. In the course of succeeding years he also made extensive purchases of land in Saskatchewan. It was in 1924 that Matthewson Brothers (James and John) purchased the Laird departmental store in High River.

From the time of his arrival in the West, Mr. Matthewson has entered actively into public life. He is president of the High River Board of Trade, position which has been filled very efficiently for the past two years. During his period of residence in High River he has taken a keen interest in and made helpful contributions to civic, sport, church and community welfare. He is an Anglican and a member of the Grand Lodge A.F. and A.M., Province of Saskatchewan.

While a resident of the province of Saskatchewan, he was honored with the confidence of his fellow citizens by appointment to the following positions: mayor of the town of Strasbourg; president of Strasbourg Board of Trade; honorary president British Empire Service League; president of Last Mountain Federal Constituency Conservative Association; Conservative candidate in 1925 for Last Mountain Federal constituency; executive member Liberal-Conservative Association, Province of Saskatchewan; executive member Saskatchewan Curling Association. As provisional director of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, Mr. Matthewson made an extensive study of wheat marketing in Canada, United States and European countries in the years 1923-24. In 1924 he submitted to the first permanent board of directors of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool his policy and ideas respecting the marketing of wheat for the benefit of the grower. This plan regrettably was not accepted, but embodied in its recommendations many of the fundamental principles of wheat marketing, so beneficial to the interests of the grower and which are now the salient features of the Canadian Wheat Board legislation, recently enacted by the Bennett government.

To these responsible offices which he has filled, may be added his appointment as Justice of the Peace of Saskatchewan in 1914, under Liberal government, a post which he held continuously since that time until 1934.

The wide and varied experience and knowledge acquired in the discharge of these duties and fulfillment of office, are necessary qualifications for the position which he now seeks as member supporting the policies of the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett.

Oscar Lofstrand, of Hillcrest, suffered injuries when his car was hit by an engine at a Hillcrest spur crossing on Friday afternoon. The auto, a 1928 Chevrolet, coach, was badly damaged. Lofstrand's condition is reported favorable.

A newspaper office (in Coleman, to wit) was much exercised recently by a sheet of copy, the scrawl on which could not be read, although there was reason to believe it was important. The members of the editorial staff having failed to decipher it, it was submitted to the compositors, one of whom, after a critical scrutiny, observed that if he had his concertina he thought he could play it.

Vice-Admiral Sir Humphrey Thomas Walwyn has been appointed Governor of Newfoundland in succession to Admiral Sir David Murray Anderson, whose term of office expires next spring. Sir Humphrey, who is 56, has had a long career in the navy. He went to sea in H.M.S. Camperdown in 1896.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Joe Wilson has returned from a motor trip to Armstrong, B.C.

Robert Littleton is on a hunting holiday trip, spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Welsh at their ranch north of Lundbreck.

Melvin Black left on Monday night's train for Vancouver, where he will visit his parents.

In response to a popular demand, steps have been instituted toward the formation of an Old Timers' Association in the Lundbreck and Cowley districts. For some years, an old time dance has been held in Lundbreck, and has been so successful that the present step has been deemed advisable. Officers of the old committee, W. T. Eddy, president, and Bert Connally, secretary, with Messrs. Marlow, Wilson and Murphy, committee, will make arrangements to enroll all residents of the district who date from 1905 and earlier, and will arrange a reception and dance to be held in Lundbreck on November the 1st. The annual meeting will be held later, when permanent officers will be elected. It is hoped by this act to get the old timers together and promote community spirit.

'SALADA' TEA

Controlling The Rust Menace

Very little reflection is required to demonstrate that an expenditure of ten years' intensive work by trained scientists and $600,000 of coin of the realm is a low price to pay for insurance of Western Canada's future wheat crop against the appalling loss which a few days of rust infestation can levy against the farmers of the West.

The $600,000 referred to and the ten years spent in work in the laboratory and the field, it was recently announced, is the cost to the nation to date of producing an un-named wheat which, according to authorities, is able to withstand a rust epidemic unscathed and at the same time produce a kernel with all the desirable attributes of the best commercial varieties of bread wheat.

Coupled with this announcement was the further statement that this new wheat can be multiplied to a sufficient extent at Dominion government experimental farms and on private lands under government supervision to enable a general distribution of seed to be made to the farmers of the West in 1937.

These announcements were accompanied by a further declaration of considerable importance, namely, that the government intends to retain control of the source of supply of this valuable seed and to see to it that the farmers are not exploited by private concerns in connection with its distribution.

The statement means that the farmers of Western Canada will be able to secure in two years time a substantial supply of seed wheat that is guaranteed to enable them to grow a crop completely immune from ravages by rust, and at a reasonable price, probably at cost.

It is perhaps a coincidence that these announcements were made at a time when Western Canadian wheat crops were hit by the worst infestation of rust that the west has known in history but the information should put new heart into the many thousands of farmers who this summer saw their hopes of recovery blighted when millions of rust spores descended on the most promising crop in years and slaughtered yield and grade which meant reducing price to the vanishing point.

The news given in these important announcements may well mean that 1935 will be the last time that Western Canadian farmers have to suffer tremendous loss from rust infestation. This statement is made with caution, however, for although it is not usual for severe rust infestation to follow in successive years, it cannot be stated affirmatively that it will not occur again before sufficient of the new wheat is grown to make a repetition of the 1935 calamity an impossibility.

Results of the work that has been done during the ten years' quest for a rust resistant wheat and laboratory and field trials of the strains which have been produced, however, appear to indicate that the battle against rust has been won by the scientist and agronomist.

There is additional comfort for the farmer, however, in another coincident announcement and that is that some of the five strains of rust resistant wheat which are being increased this year also show a tendency to resist other diseases, those mentioned specifically being smut, smut, leaf rust and one of the varieties is reported as "moderately resistant" to loose smut.

So it is possible that while the experts have won their fight against rust they have at the same time scored at least partial victory in the battle against some of the other diseases to which wheat is heir. To what extent these other disease pests have been overcome while the major conflict was being waged time and experiment alone will prove. It is safe to say, however, that these apparent advantages will be followed up with the same vigor that these scientists have shown in their now successful efforts to overcome the major enemy.

Definite proof that the new wheat is all that is claimed for it exists as a result of field trials and laboratory tests which have been made during the ten years the work has been in progress and particularly this season.

In field plots the new wheat showed up clean and bright while alongside it the other standard varieties of commercial wheat were sick with the disease. Laboratory and commercial tests have proven conclusively that the new wheat has milling and baking qualities equal to that of Marquis and Reward.

The tests have demonstrated equally conclusively that the new wheat has the requisite length and strength of straw, yield, earliness, appearance of kernel and weight per bushel possessed by the best of the present day commercial varieties.

In other words the new wheat fills all the requirements of the type of hard spring wheat which has made Western Canada famous in the world's bread markets and has the additional ability to withstand rust, and perhaps to withstand some of the other diseases which periodically take toll of the Western grain farmer.

Empress Of Ethiopia

Claims She Is Descendant Of Queen Of Sheba

Through all the worries and anxieties brought upon him by Italy's threatened conquest of Ethiopia, Emperor Haile Selassie's most devoted companion and counsellor has been his wife, Empress Waizera Menen. Gifted with uncommon intelligence, astuteness and foresight, the 41-year-old Empress urged the Emperor not to yield to Mussolini's threats but to defend the kingdom to the last.

Emperor Haile Selassie is Waizera's fourth husband. Maybe that is why she is called the "Queen of Italy". They have three sons and three daughters. They have been married 23 years, and it is said they have never had a quarrel. The Emperor like most of the higher-caste Ethiopians, is monogamous. Waizera is his only wife.

"Waizeru" means literally "Lady of Quality". She is the daughter of a famous provincial prince, and has a very dignified and aristocratic bearing. She was educated by private tutors. The "Queen of Kings", who is fat, not fair, and 40, claims to come from the same Hamitic stock as the famous Queen of Sheba who ruled Ethiopia 3,000 years ago. She also claims descent from the glamorous Cleopatra. She is addressed by her ten million native subjects as "Your Serene and All-Just Majesty". She signs herself "the Conquering Lion of Judah hath conquered."

The Empress speaks no language except the ancient Amharic, which is of Semitic origin. All attendants who approach her shield their mouths with their white shamma (shawl).

Dionne Quintuplets Bowl

Smartly Designed Bowl Is Offered As A Gift

A surprise gift offer which will interest every parent, every child, and, in fact, everyone who has ever heard of the world-famous Dionne Quintuplets, has been announced. The article offers a special bowl created in honour of the five little sisters and called the Dionne Quintuplets Birthday Bowl. Made of shining lifetime chromium, it is six inches in diameter, smartly designed in modern lines and contains inside with a charming sculpture of the "Quint". On the rim are engraved the names of the babies: Emile, Annette, Marie, Irene and Thelma. The bowl is the ideal cereal bowl for a child, it makes a distinctive olive and celery dish or bon-bon dish.

Those who can afford this attractive gift can secure two Quaker Oats gift-cards, each worth fifteen cents to help cover postage and handling charges, to The Quaker Oats Company, Saskatoon, Sask.

Heaviest Air Passenger

United Air Lines Carried Judge Who Weighed 400 Pounds

When County Judge A. W. Dulewicz applied for a ticket at the United Air Lines office at Omaha the booking clerk was in a quandary. The judge weighs four hundred pounds and probably the heaviest man in the world. The clerk did not wish to offend him, but at the same time wondered if he could book him on board an aeroplane on only one ticket. The company were pleased to take him without extra charge, however, as the judge was undoubtedly the biggest passenger they had ever carried, and they wished to mark the occasion.

A Strange City

Queer Place In Derbyshire, England Has Only Eight Houses

A strange city may be found in England within two miles of Chesterfield's famous crooked spire. It is another Derbyshire curiosity. Down a winding bridle-path is Tapton City—the queerest and smallest city in the world. It has only eight houses, no church, no public-house, no shop, no post office. No electricity or gas is found there—they use oil lamps. How or why it became a city nobody knows, but it is believed to have been founded on the ashes of a Roman camp.

The possibility of travelling to the moon, by means of a "flying chariot" was discussed by a scientific-minded bishop in England in the seventeenth century.

The temperature of one of the sun's spots is about 4,700 degrees centigrade. This is about 1,000 degrees cooler than the sun's spot-free surface.

New Type Flying Boat

Soviet Aviation Authorities Try Out Parachute Kite

A passenger and freight-carrying "parachute kite," which Soviet aviation authorities said they believed would be able to ascend into the stratosphere, had its first successful trial lifting four tons of cargo.

An ordinary freight parachute, with a dozen 65 feet in diameter, was used. The load was attached with short ropes leading from one side of the kite to the other. The other side bulges upward, giving the lifting power. Longer ropes, running from the bulging side, also were attached to a load which, for passenger-carrying purposes, would consist of a gondola. By manoeuvring the longer rope, the crew, experts said, could steer the parachute and control its ascent and descent.

The whole combination load was called a "parachute train" in the official description by Prof. I. Grokofsky, chief of the experimental institute of the Commissariat of Heavy Industry which is sponsoring the trials. Grokofsky said he believed the parachute could carry explorers into the stratosphere and described flying in a parachute kite as the safest mode of air travel since the parachute is always opened, assuring a safe descent.

Liner Gangway Blocked

Passengers At Southampton Held Up By Thousands Of Bees

Thousands of bees held up passengers about to embark on the liner Moldavia at Southampton, England. The bees settled down comfortably at the foot of the passenger gangway and defied attempts to move them. A hose was tried, but this merely incited the bees, and caused them to buzz in clouds, scattering lookers. Eventually order was restored, and embarkation proceeded.

Transmits Sound And Vision
Television In Germany Covers Distance Of Nearly 50 Miles

A great advance in television service has been achieved by a transmission from Witzleben to Gildenhall, Germany, a distance of nearly 50 miles. The transmission, both for sound and vision, is stated to have been very good. Dr. M. Hadamowksi, head of the German broadcasting service, was present at the opening of the new station and heard by the men of the labor camp at Gildenhall, whom he addressed. Afterwards, news pictures were transmitted with results reported to be equally satisfactory.

The cat-like whiskers and purring noise it makes when caught.

LEAGUE AGAIN WARNS ITALY IN AGGRESSION PLAN

Geneva.—The council of the League of Nations solemnly warned Italy and Ethiopia against war.

At the same time it constituted itself into a committee to draft a report with recommendations for settlement of the East African conflict and to consider if "anything further can be done to safeguard peace."

Should either country start hostilities before December 4, the league indirectly warned, it will be considered to have committed an act of war against all league members. This would automatically call for punitive steps.

This came as the council, by a unanimous vote, from which the Italian delegates refrained, decided to proceed under article XV. of the covenant. It ruled that article was in operation as from September 4.

London.—The deadlock between Premier Mussolini and the League of Nations must come within the next 10 days, it was predicted in some official quarters, the break coming with Italy's resignation from the league and the simultaneous push of its armies into Ethiopia.

Despite the League of Nations' actions in placing the Italo-Ethiopian deliberations under article XV. of the league covenant, official British saw no hope that Il Duco would hold his East African legions in check until December.

Article XV. calls for council recommendations. Should article XV. and its accompanying recommendations be disregarded by member nations such as the advance of Italy's troops before Dec. 4, Article XVI.—describing such disregard as an act of war—is automatically invoked.

Other foreign office officials clung to the hope that Mussolini will finally be overawed by the gravity of his East Africa adventure and make some olive-branch gesture to the league at the last minute.

Rustless Wheat

Manitoba Said To Be Purchasing Seed From Minnesota

Minneapolis.—Rustless wheat grown from seed developed at the University of Minnesota on the Canadian farm of Hance Lilleford has found a ready market this fall in the government of Manitoba itself.

Lilleford, who operates a 250-acre farm near Arnaud, Man., planted the acreage to Thatcher wheat—developed after years of research by Dr. H. K. Hayes, University of Minnesota agronomist.

In the midst of vast fields of wheat ravished by the black stem rust, Lilleford's wheat escaped the disease almost completely and yielded more than 30 bushels to the acre.

The government of the province authorized purchase of 5,000 bushels to be used as seed.

Sentry Killed By Lions

Five Belonging To Emperor Selassie Make Dash For Freedom

Addis Ababa.—Five of Emperor Haile Selassie's big lions escaped, killed one sentry, and injured five more.

In this rush for freedom they devoured several of the Emperor's pedigreed Australian sheep and killed two horses.

Colonel Mekouria, the commander of the imperial guard, seized a machine gun and shot all five beasts in succession.

Gordon Bennett Trophy

Warsaw.—The Polish balloon Polonia was awarded the Gordon Bennett trophy as the winner of the 27th Bennett international races that began here Sept. 15. The Polonia, one of the 18 entries, travelled about 1,007 miles after a flight of 58 hours and 54 minutes, it was officially announced. It reached an altitude of 16,732 feet. Another Polish balloon, the Warsaw, was second.

More Wheat In Store

Ottawa.—The Dominion bureau of statistics reported Canadian wheat in store for the week ended Sept. 20 amounted to 220,862,570 bushels, an increase of 13,958,389 over the previous week. The visible supply for the corresponding week last year was 223,669,204 bushels.

Building Aeroplanes

London.—The Yugoslav government awarded contracts for aero-plane motors to a British firm amounting to £250,000 (about $1,462,000).

A Quiet Session

Prince Edward Island's House Of Assembly Meets

Charlottetown.—Another chapter was written into the history of British parliamentary procedure when Prince Edward Island's House of Assembly, filled with 50 elected members, met and carried on this session of state without an official opposition.

It was not a house of "yes-men," however. At least two government supporters served notice on Premier Walter Lea that they were going to be a rubber-stamp for cabinet-directed policies.

When the money bill, the most important legislation of the special one-day session, was being studied in committee under the guidance of the premier, W. H. Dennis, Prince, and H. H. Cox, King's, raised objection to Canada's smallest province providing for $3,000,000 expenditure to refund loans and carry on public works. To give the cabinet this authority two months after taking office would be going directly against the policy of retrenchment which placed them in power, the critics concluded.

Opposition to an official proposal partly had to meet the wrath of the session and at an early hour the governor, accompanied by his secretary and aide-de-camp, returned to give His Majesty's assent to the bills passed.

The house was prorogued to meet ordinarily in March, 1936.

New Gold Strike

Made On North Arm Of Great Slave Lake

Edmonton.—A new gold strike west of Yellowknife bay on the north arm of Great Slave lake was revealed to the world when Dr. Fred Joliffe, of the federal geological survey, flew out of the north, after a summer spent in the northwest territories.

"The strike was made September 15, several miles from the Burwash discovery," said Dr. Joliffe.

He refused to divulge the name of the prospector who made the strike pending the filing of his official report when he returns to the department of mines headquarters at Ottawa.

Dr. Joliffe and his party of 15 student assistants from the University of Alberta, explored an area of roughly 10,000 square miles on the north shore of Great Slave lake and found that 2,800 square miles of the district was underlaid by pre-Cambrian sediments of volcanics, relatively favorable for the occurrence of gold and silver deposits.

Dr. Joliffe left Sept. 24 for Ottawa.

Stage Sham Air Raid

Flight Of Giant Bombers Visit Island Of Malta

Valetta, Malta.—A fleet of giant bombers and other aircraft dived over Malta in a sham air raid recently, with this tiny British island outpost plunged in darkness and eerie silence.

Promptly at 9:30 p.m., every house, street and traffic light blazed out. Simultaneously, the twinkling lights of British warships riding at anchor in the harbor went off.

Thousands of citizens thronged the historic bastions of Valetta and the seafront during the raid.

Acting-Governor Luke surveyed the operations. Aerial and military authorities said they were well pleased with the island's loyal cooperation.

Would Defend Record

If Speed Prestige Threatened Camp-bell Will Run Again

London.—Sir Malcolm Campbell and his Bluebird are through with breaking records unless some foreigner gives them a new mark to shoot at.

Sir Malcolm announced at a dinner in his honor that he had his fill of blistering speeds, but that there was still a great deal of lightning in his racing car that might be coaxed out if Britain's speed prestige was threatened.

Coining Ethiopian Money

Rome.—Italy is already coining Ethiopian thalers, for use following the incursion of Italian forces into Ethiopia. Employees of the mint said the coins are to be used by the military and civil governors which Italy plans to install in Ethiopia, to pay off tribesmen who seek work under Italian domination.

Another Leaf Competition

Montreal.—Third annual competition for the most beautiful autumn tinted maple leaf is announced by the Canadian government through the Canadian travel bureau. First prize will be $100.

Honesty Was Rewarded

Delivery Boy Returns Valuable Bonds And Gets Good Job

New York.—From the lowly plane of delivery boy of "coffee and—" at $3.15 a week, young Albert Corrier vaulted to a remunerative position in Wall street.

Corrier's role in "the street's" newest success story can be when he picked from the gutter a packet of bonds valued at $150,000 and returned them to the owners. C. F. Grunwald, vice-president of C. F. Childs and Co., Wall street brokers, owners of the bonds, announced Corrier would start work in the cashier's department of the brokerage firm.

Corrier, who is 22, may also get a reward.

Insurance Premiums Higher

British Vessels Passing Through Suez Canal Must Pay More

Singapore.—Fear of trouble developing here in the Mediterranean was reflected here when marine insurance companies warned special premiums for "war risks" must be paid by British vessels returning to England through the Suez canal.

To escape payment of the war risk premiums British ships must go all the way around the Cape of Good Hope.

URGE LARGE SCALE EMIGRATION PLAN TO THE DOMINIONS

Newcastle-On-Tyne, England.—The conference on emigration to the dominions, after preparing a written case for a government-assisted emigration scheme.

The brief, which a deputation will present to the government, urges a large-scale emigration scheme would help solve unemployment at home and abroad. Financial assistance would be repaid by saving unemployment of mine headquarters at Ottawa.

Establishment of an empire development and emigration board with statutory powers is advocated and it is suggested the annual budget should provide grants to settlers.

The plan will be submitted by the cabinet by the lord mayor of Newcastle, R. S. Dalgleish, and a deputation of members of parliament and representatives of emigration authorities from all parts of the country.

Confidential statement afterward will be circulated to Dominion premiers, high commissioners and ambassadors general, with a letter from the lord mayor of Newcastle appealing for their co-operation in an effort to bring about the biggest move ever made for the repopulation of the empire by families and communities from the United Kingdom.

The term of office of the Earl of Beaconsfield as the king's representative in Canada expires shortly.

It was an affectionate farewell at which, in addition to Sir George Perley, who presided, there was a distinguished gathering of representatives of the state, the diplomatic corps, the church, the judiciary and the civil service with their wives.

Responding to the toast proposed by Sir George Perley, the governor-general dwelt on the happy relations he had enjoyed during his four years in Canada.

Siege Of Lucknow

Ten People Alive To Celebrate Thrilling Event

London.—Ten people in different parts of the world celebrate one of the most thrilling incidents in the modern history of the British Empire, the siege of Lucknow in the Indian mutiny.

The oldest survivor of the siege is G. G. Palmer, a resident of British Columbia, the youngest Arthur Dashwood, "70" living in London. Dashwood's mother died in his birth in the residency at Lucknow, where 17 people were buried in one room during the siege. Despite her ordeal, Mrs. Dashwood lived for more than 70 years.

Abolish Ration System

New Decree Is Effective In Soviet Russia

Moscow.—A government decree abolished the ration system of selling some prime food products, cutting prices in open commercial shops.

The decree constitutes an important step toward liquidation of the present double sales system whereby workers make purchases in "closed" ration shops and the general public buys in open shops.

Prices of the two have differed widely, workers getting the benefit of extremely low rates.

The decree abolished ration shop sale of meat, sugar, fish, butter and potatoes and threw all buying of these products into open shops, substituting one fixed price for the previous double price system.

The new price scale reduced beef more than 50 per cent. It now will sell from five rubles up per kilogram. Sugar will be four rubles and 52 kopeks per kilogram as compared with 6.50, and butter was reduced from 24 rubles per kilogram to 15.

To prevent speculation, it was announced, no purchaser will be permitted to buy at one time more than two kilograms of meat; two of sugar; a half kilogram of butter or three kilograms of fish.

Mussolini Opposed

Report From Italy Of Some Opposition To War Plans

Paris.—French newspapers reprinted a story from The London Referee saying Prince Umberto, heir to the Italian throne, is opposed to Premier Benito Mussolini's conflict with Ethiopia.

(This report was described as utterly false in Rome and London by authoritative Italian spokesmen.)

There is a possibility, the story said, of General Italo Balbo, governor of Libya and Italian air hero, leading a revolt against Il Duce.

Balbo, whose relations with the royal family are excellent, is also opposed to the Ethiopian campaign, the story asserted. "A large number of Italian superior officers share his view."

Farewell Banquet

Governor-General And Countess Of Beaconsfield Are Honored

Ottawa.—A formal banquet was given by the government of Canada to the Governor-General and Countess of Beaconsfield.

The term of office of the Earl of Beaconsfield as the king's representative in Canada expires shortly.

It was an affectionate farewell at which, in addition to Sir George Perley, who presided, there was a distinguished gathering of representatives of the state, the diplomatic corps, the church, the judiciary and the civil service with their wives.

Responding to the toast proposed by Sir George Perley, the governor-general dwelt on the happy relations he had enjoyed during his four years in Canada.

Hours Of Labor Set

Legislation Will Be Brought Into Effect October 5

Ottawa.—Legislation for limitation of the hours of labor in certain industrial undertakings in Canada will be brought into effect on Oct. 5. Regulations for carrying out of the measure have been drafted.

Based on a 1919 convention of the international labor organization of the League of Nations, the legislation constitutes part of the reform program brought about by the government at the last session of parliament.

It has been reported Greece is prepared to support Great Britain in any Mediterranean activity which might become necessary at the outbreak of Italo-Ethiopian warfare.

Greek newspapers hailed the arrival of British ships in Greek ports, saying that the people of Greece have come to regard the annual British naval maneuvers in Mediterranean waters as a welcome tradition.

The Federal Vote

Results Should Be Quickly Available After Closing Of Polls

Ottawa.—Although various adaptations of proportional representation and the single transferable vote are used in some provincial elections the Dominion general election Oct. 14 will be conducted on the traditional single-vote system.

Electors will have only one choice between the contending candidates. They will mark an "X" opposite the name of the candidate they favor and the candidate with the largest number of "X's" will be elected. There are no second or third choices.

With the single-vote system in operation throughout the Dominion on election day results will be available probably for all constituencies within a few hours of the closing of the polls.

OTTAWA SAYS FAREWELL TO BESSBROUGH

Ottawa.—To the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" and the last goodbyes of thousands of Ottawa's citizens ringing in their ears, the Governor-General and Lady Bessborough departed for England.

Standing on the rear platform of their railway car as it drew out at funeral pace from the Union station, Their Excellencies and their Canadian-born son, the Hon. George St. Lawrence Neufville Ponsonby, waved to the assembled multitude. The governor-general was obviously stirred by a deep emotion. His eyes glistened with tears.

In the early afternoon a large crowd began to assemble in the vicinity of the station. It was a dull grey day, with overcast skies, sultry and humid. This contrasted with the brilliant sunshine which had greeted Lord and Lady Bessborough when they arrived in Ottawa to take up their duties four and a half years ago. But all the glitter and pomp which such an official occasion evokes in the capital were present on this occasion as they were then.

Within, red carpet stretched from the stairway to the waiting special train, the pathway ending in a platform up to which was backed the car which was to take Their Excellencies to Quebec. Gathered along each side were figures in Ottawa's social life, diplomats, soldiers, naval men and air force officers.

Market Zones For Coal

Says Plan Would Result In Increased Output

Drumheller, Alta.—The Villiers national coal policy, which would divide Canada into three market zones, was advocated here by Jesse Gouge, pioneer Drumheller valley coal operator, at a hearing of the Alberta coal commission.

Mr. Gouge told Sir Montague Barlow, English business expert heading the commission, that under the policy importers of coal would be licensed by the Dominion government and free importation would be permitted to the central zone, Ontario, but would limit eastern and western areas.

Adoption of the Villiers scheme would do away with the present system of local, domestic and foreign coal, Mr. Gouge contended. The advantage to the mines from this policy would be 10 times greater than that which would accrue from the subvention on coal to Ontario, he continued. Subventions are paid by the Dominion government.

At present 30,000 tons are shipped annually to Ontario, the Drumheller operator said, while the market zoning plan would mean from 250,000 to 500,000 additional output each year from the domestic mines and more than that from the steam mines of Alberta.

Would Ban Canadian Hay

English Farmers Contend They Produce Enough To Meet Demand

Aiton, Hampshire, Eng.—A resolution calling for the prohibition of hay imports from the dominions and foreign countries was passed at a grievance meeting of farmers here.

It was contended sufficient hay was produced in Great Britain to meet home demands.

Speakers emphasized the "galling" effect on farmers when they saw their land being used for army maneuvers and army horses being fed Canadian hay. It was declared five camps were being supplied with Canadian hay, amounting to 1,500 tons, while only one camp sought tenders from local farmers.

Canadian average hay exports to England over a period of years run from 15,000 to 20,000 tons annually.

Favorable To Canada

Winnipeg.—As a result of the 1931 trade agreements, the trade balance between Canada and Australia is now three to one in Canada's favor, L. R. MacGregor, Australian trade commissioner in Canada, stated here. Australia is Canada's third best world market, he said.

Installing McGill Principal

Montreal.—It is expected at least 24 Canadian universities and colleges will be represented at the installation of Professor A. E. Morgan as principal of McGill University Oct. 5.

Dr. Robert C. Wallace, president of University of Alberta, Edmonton, will be in attendance.
